This class offers a safe, non-threatening approach to the world of acting through a series of improvisation and non-competitive games. Each student is taken through a series of exercises designed to release their natural talent and erase their inhibitions. The class meets once a week. They will also have a chance to learn about auditioning and performing.

Acting (3rd through 12th grade)

Grandstreet Theatre School weekly acting classes encompass the basics of acting such as blocking and movement to more advanced scene work and auditioning. Students work with our talented staff as well as guest artists. The Christmas Theatre School production, final class showings and the many other productions provide the students many opportunities to appear in the limelight.
